

SnowFROC 2018 – March 8th One Day Only Event

8-9	Registration &amp; Breakfast
9-9:50	Keynote – John Strand
Technical Track			Managerial Track		Hands-On Training
10-11	M	Defend Your Infrastructure from Evil with Kippo/Cowrie Honeypot	G	Hacking Office Politics for Cybersecurity Leaders	WiFi Hacking
	B	Realizing Software Security Maturity: The Growing Pains & Gains
11-12	M	Continuous Security: Using Automation to Expand AppSec's Reach	G	Building and Nurturing Your Modern Information Security Risk Programs
			B	Design Thinking for DevSecOps Culture Building 11-11:30
			B	Evolving Threats: The Convergence of Computer Hacking and Biohacking 11:30-12
12-1	Catered Lunch &amp; Vendor Give-Away #1
1-2	M	Threat Modeling for IoT Systems	G	Are Organizations Too Confident About Application Security?		Crypto
	B	Automate or Die
2-3	M	A whale of a tale. (embattling your apps with Docker)	G	OWASP Proactive Controls
	B	Security and DevOps in IoT: Finding the right balance to protect consumer IoT products
3-4	G	The Attacker's POV - Hacking Mobile Apps in Your Enterprise to Reveal Real Vulns and Protect the Business	M	The Only Reason Security Really Matters for DevOps		The Equifax Breach
	B	Building Patterns for secure microservices, an approach and pattern zero candidate
3:30	Happy Hour Begins
4-5:30	Vendor Give-Away #2 Followed by Panel Discussion
KEY	G = Great Hall-300	M = Malone Theater-200	B = Bresnan Boardroom-90	Δ Lower Level Δ

Location: The Cable Center 2000 Buchtel Blvd S, Denver, CO 80210 *Hands-On Training takes place in the Lower Level, Panel Discussion & Lunch take place in The Great Hall